Re: Vlad Vizireanu

Vlad attended my Conductors' Course at the Lucerne Festival, Easter 2013, where he was one of seven candidates from a pool of 240 applicants who were selected to take an active part in the class.

I found him very musical, and he clearly has talent. I am especially impressed with his passion and expressive capabilities on the podium. He is also a very pleasant and serious young man.

He certainly deserves further opportunities to develop as a musician and conductor, and I heartily recommend that he be considered for any such chance as may arise.
